OBSERVATIONS BY MEMBER OF BUREAU OF CORPORATIONS

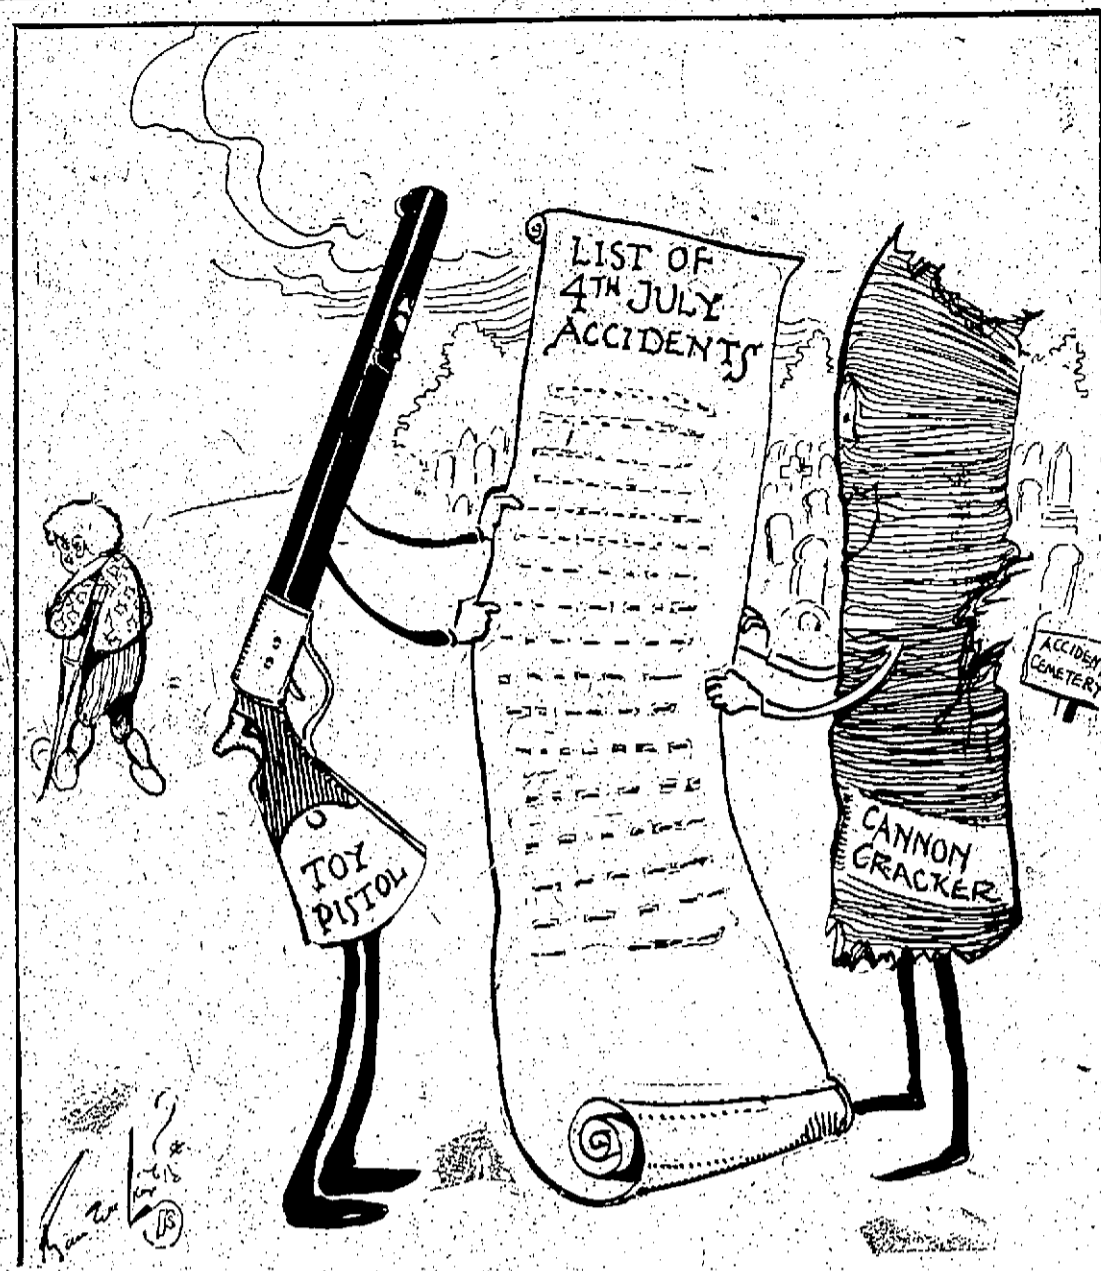

(Special Correspondence.)
Washington, D. C., July 3.—Herbert Knox Smith, deputy commissioner of the Bureau of Corporations, when he recently appeared before the House Committee on Appropriations made some observations in connection with the work of the Bureau which are of interest. He urged that the unexpended balance of $79,000 for the current year be made available for the work of next year. In speaking of the difficulties under which the Bureau is laboring, he said that it had had to hold up the sugar investigation and part of the tobacco investigation because of the immunity decisions until it was determined just how the department stood on that matter. "Then when the special developments came out in regard to the discriminations in the transportation of oil the attention of the entire Bureau had to be given to that, and we could not really undertake any investigation at the time. The result has been that we haven't done as much work as we had expected."
Representative Littauer wanted to know if he thought the Bureau could profitably expend $200,000 in such investigations and Mr. Smith replied: "Yes, sir, if we carry out the work we intend to do."
He referred to the tobacco and sugar investigations as likely to prove very expensive.

It contains specimens of ecclesiastical vestments that go back to the very beginning of the Christian church. There is goldsmiths' work wrought by the greatest medieval masters of the craft. Illuminated manuscripts, ancient enameled pictures by artists unknown to moderns, glorious things that were amongst the treasures of the old emperors—all are contained in the collection. Prof. Grisar, a Jesuit and a great archaeologist, has obtained permission to overhaul the collection, photograph it and write a book on it. MUCH PROGRESS MADE IN THE ANTI-TRUST FIGHT

A Tabulated Summary Of Accomplishments Since First of Year—Two Big Combinations Still On Carpet.

(Special Correspondence.)
Washington, D. C., July 3.—Among all questions regarding their methods the end of the session, speeches delivered in congress last week was one by Representative Townsend of Michigan in which he said: "The Sherman anti-trust law has been enforced until illegal combinations are in great fear and trembling; while some of their constituents are either on the road to the penitentiary or are hiding from the officers of justice."
A review of events since the first of the present year shows that this statement has substantial basis in fact. The six months just closed have indeed been a strenuous period for the trusts. Not to mention the Standard Oil and the railroad probes now in progress, the final outcome of which remains to be seen, some of the biggest of the combines have been hard hit by court decisions, while other decisions handed down by the highest tribunals have made it easier for the federal and state governments to successfully prosecute violations of the anti-trust laws. The anti-trust campaign has not been confined to any one section of the country, but has extended from New York to California, as may be seen by the following chronology of events:
Jan. 5.—Federal grand jury at Chicago indicted the Burlington railroad and two of its officers on a charge of granting rebates.

April 11.—Circuit court of Franklin county, Ohio, revoked charter of wholesale grocers' association on ground that it was formed to regulate prices and restrain trade.
April 17.—President sent message to congress calling for new legislation to prevent federal judges from deciding that information offered by defendants in anti-trust cases renders them immune from prosecution.
April 25.—Grand jury at Norwalk, Ohio, returned indictments against bridge companies for alleged trust law violations.

May 11.—In federal court at St. Paul, the General Paper company abandoned its opposition to the government's suit charging restraint of trade and was ordered to dissolve.

Treat the Inside Nerves

There is one sure way to get well. That is to restore the inside nerves. Dr. Shop's Restorative is the only treatment that in any way restores the inside nerves. It is a remedy which acts subtly and positively, not on any specific organ, but on the inside nerves themselves—
a reasoning which gives them power and strength and reinforcement, that repairs the very mainspring of life, that vitalizes every organ. For sale and recommended by

KANSAS SENATORS HOODOOED

Since Lane Suicided Successors Have Had Ill-Luck—George R. Peck Declined Office Once.

(By William Wolf Smith.)

Washington, D. C., July 2.—(Special correspondence.)—When considering "possibilities" for the next republican nomination for the presidency, it will be well to bear in mind that Roosevelt is a young man. General Grant was 47 when elected President and Grover Cleveland 48, but Mr.
Roosevelt was not quite forty-three years of age when he became President at the death of McKinley. Presidents Pierce and Garfield entered the White House at the age of 49, James K. Polk and Millard Fillmore had reached the "half-century" milestone
when they entered the White House.
Presidents Arthur and Tyler were 51
years old when they reached that exalted position in life. Lincoln was 52, McKinley 53, Hayes 54, W. H. Harrison and Martin Van Buren 55, Washington and Johnson 57, Jefferson Madison and J. Adams 58, Monroe
59, John Adams and Andrew Jackson
62, Taylor 65, Buchanan 66, and Benjamin Harrison 68 years of age, being the oldest man to enter the executive mansion. Three Presidents, Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley, were assassinated, Lincoln being 56, Garfield 49, and McKinley 58 years old at the time of their death. Only one ex-President is now living—Cleveland.
Consumption claimed one President, Andrew Jackson dying from it at the age of 78. General Washington and Benjamin Harrison died of pneumonia at the ages of 67 and 68. Four Presidents, Madison, Monroe, John Adams, and Fillmore, died of general debility at the ages of 55, 73, 90 and 94, respectively. John Adams has the distinction of having lived longer than any other President up to the present day. Thomas Jefferson and James K. Polk died of chronic diarrhoea at the ages of 83 and 54, respectively,
and President Pierce of inflammation of the stomach at the age of 64. John Q. Adams and Andrew Johnson were victims of paralysis at the ages of 59 and 66, respectively, while President Hayes died at the age of 70 of paralysis of the heart. Cancer caused the death of President Grant when he had reached 66 years of age. President Arthur died of Bright's disease
at 56, Buchanan of rheumatic gout at 77, Van Buren of asthmatic catarrh at 78, W. H. Harrison of bilious pleurisy at 68, Tyler of a bilious attack at 71 and Zachary Taylor of bilious fever at 65.

A sort of embryonic cyclone is spreading over the country, shaking

the foundations of army and navy circles, labor organizations and the great Tailors' union. Appeals have been made to the President, but that is not surprising for everybody who has a grievance, or imagines he has one on an imaginary topic, runs straight to the President with it and threats have been made of appealing to congress, and all on the cut of the uniform, with which it intended or desired to clothe our great and glorious army. American tailors were not smart enough, or good enough, or a species of anglo-manias has seized upon our war department—it cannot be exactly determined which it is, but something has caused our good secretary of war to call in the aid of a "blasted Englishman" to help him decide not only as to the style, but as to the cut and make of army uniforms. The navy is interested because they fear the disease willprove epidemic and catch the secretary of the navy and officers and men

serving on our warships will have to wear British-cut clothes. There is a law that forbids the importation of labor, and it has been known that one or more preachers who had been called to reside over the moral welfare of some ambitious folk have been turned back because of this same law, but here is the President and his cabinet officers defying this law. This is not a tempest in a teapot, for it has passed the teapot stageand is now threatening to topple the political temples of more than one man who has one eye keened on the White House. The labor organizations that have called on the War department have received scant courtesy by those who govern there. Cleveland in his first administration went out of the country to buy some steel rails or something of that sort, and only a few weeks ago Roosevelt was threatening to go to foreign countries after steam shovels, so why not let the government import an English tailor?

It does look a little hard that a country that claims it can whip all creation, that it can beat the world in making locomotives, building war vessels, digging canals, spending millions with a lavish hand, for anything has to go out to a little island just off the Irish coast to find a tailor.

Congressional interference in the method and manner of transacting the business of the country always proves costly to the people. The country has been gravely informed that the cost of meat inspection will be collected from the consumer, whether it is paid out of the general treasury or by the packers, and now the barbers of Washington have united to raise the price of shaving fifty per cent, all because the district commissioners have ordered that the shops should be kept in a sanitary condition. For several years the leading shops in the city have been advertising that they were conducted on the most scientific sanitary plan, and without raising the price of shaving. Now, that the local authorities have said they shall do just as they have been advertising

they were doing to meet the expense five cents is to be added to every shave. In Washington there are fifty thousand men who shave twice a week, and ten thousand who shave three or more times making 130,000 shaves a week. On account of this increased price to be demanded by the barbers, the patrons will be called upon to pay $5.00 weekly, or $338.
000 a year. It is evident the boss barbers proposed to make good as the additional cost to them, to obey the law would not average more than a dollar a week for each shop.

There is a law which forbids the forming of combinations for the purpose of raising prices. This law is now being invoked against the Standard Oil company and other corporations and individuals. Only a few days ago three or four ice dealers in Toledo were given jail sentences for combining to raise the price of ice.

The combination of barbers to increase the price of a shave, or of any other casual work is in direct violation of the anti-trust law and it has been suggested that when the department of justice gets through with the Standard Oil, steel, sugar and tobacco trusts it might turn its attention to this combination of Washington barbers.

The earnest advocates of "good roads" throughout the country will be interested in the contemplated action

of the commissioners of the District of Columbia in regard to the use of "tire chains" on automobiles. It is claimed that the chains tear up the country roads, and are especially destructive of city asphalt streets. For several years the effort to get good roads in all sections of the country has been growing in interest and in about all the states, associations have been formed to secure adequate legislation. This movement had its first start through the "Wheelman's league," an association of cyclists, was taken up by the agricultural and postoffice departments. Finally interesting farmers as well as pleasure seekers. A vast improvement in the conditions of the roads has been made in some states and the use of chains on autos is as destructive as claimed the various "good roads" associations will likely take a hand in opposition to their use.

For the past twenty-five or thirty years the state of Kansas has had a sort of "hoodoo" seat in the United States senate, the occupants of which have gone through some rather strange experiences and at last made a failure of life. This "hoodoo" started with the suicide of James H. Lane near the close of his six-year term as a senator from Kansas and without a single exception every man who has followed after Lane in representing Kansas has been unfortunate in the achievement of senatorial honors. Kansas speak of Lane as "the immortal Jim Lane," who they say,

was almost a true copy of the famous John Brown. This peculiar situation in Kansas politics has been called the "Lane fatal succession," but many men have risked to "succeed"
to Lane's seat only to be sadly disappointed.

Kansas politics are indeed, fickle.

The only man to serve in the senate

any length of time was John J. Ingalls, who was sent to the senate for three terms, a total of eighteen years. Almost every other senator from Kansas has only served out one term of six years. When Lane died, Edmund D. Ross was appointed, by the governor of Kansas, to succeed him and it was his vote that pulled President Johnson clear of the impeachment proceedings. His people took offense at his vote and Mr. Ross was only permitted to fill out Lane's unexpired term. Preston B. Plumb was Ross' successor, who died before completing his second term. Bishop W. Perkins was appointed to fill the vacancy, but he only served out Plumb's term, as the Populists came into power and sent John Martin, a lawyer, to the senate. At the end of his term Populism got a knockout blow by the republicans, who sent Lucien Baker to the senate. Baker did not please his people in the matter of appointments to office and he was retired at the end of his six-year term. Joseph R. Burton taking his place. Burton has now been forced to resign. This completes the list of those in the "fatal Lane succession"
and in view of the disastrous consequences which befall these senators,
the course of Senator Burton's successor, Mr. Benson, will be watched with interest.

The other line of senators, from Kansas has also been tainted to a more or less extent. The first of this set was a Mr. Pomeroy who retired under charges of bribery at the close of his first term. He was succeeded by Senator Caldwell, who also retired at the end of his first term, with a suspicion of scandal attaching to his name. John J. Ingalls then came to the senate from Kansas and was a brilliant and popular figure in that body for eighteen years. He was retired at that time and "Whiskers" Peffer was sent to the senate, only to be shelved by the Populists at the end of his first term, that party electing

W. A. Harris to the senate. Harris is now making a vigorous campaign for the governorship of Kansas. Near the close of Harris' term the republicans again came into power and the present senator, Chester I. Long, was elected. Up to date Mr. Long has made an ideal senator and bids fair to gain another election.

The declaration of F. D. Coburn, at present state agriculturist of Kansas,

to accept the senatorship made vacant by Burton's resignation, recalls
the fact that when Senator Plumb died, the governor offered the seat to George R. Peck, then general solicitor of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Feroad, now general counsel of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road at Chicago, who declined it. When Lane committed suicide, the governor indicated his desire to appoint Dr.
H. D. Fisher to the vacancy, but the Reverend Doctor asked for time in which to consult his wife. It is said that the minister and his wife prayed for a quite a time for guidance in the matter, with the result that Rev.
Mr. Fisher declined the proffer saying "my field of labor is the pulpit,
not the forum."

Water Powers of Northern Wisconsin

Full Investigated by the Government.

In no state are water powers destined to be of greater importance than in Wisconsin. The developed water power has increased from 32, 700 horsepower in 1870 to 99,000 horsepower in 1900, but so far as known on no important river in the state has all the available power been developed. In a paper by J. S. Smith, just issued by the United States geological survey as water supply and irrigation paper No. 156, are discussed
the developed and undeveloped water powers in the drainage basins of Fox, Menominee, Peshtigo, Oconto,
Wolf, Wisconsin, Black, Chippewa,
and St. Croix rivers, and on the streams tributary to Lake Superior.
This report, which may be obtained on application to the director of the United States geological survey, Washington, D. C., contains profiles of all streams that have been surveyed, all available information regarding stream flow, and descriptions of conditions at points where power is developed or available. The United States geological survey is now making additional surveys of streams in cooperation with the state of Wisconsin. This work is in charge of Professor L. S.
Smith of the University of Wisconsin. During the present fiscal year the state of Wisconsin and the United States geological survey has allotted $1,350 to this work. This work is being pushed as rapidly as the available funds permit, and its extension will depend upon further cooperation and appropriations by the state of Wisconsin.

THE STORY OF CLASSIFIED TOWN

Our little rhyme today will be
About the man who, you'll agree,
Is always in the public eye,
Upon his word we can rely.

The public eyes are his stock in trade.
Defective sights he aims to aid.
The "Is" that eyes for him provide,
Are the "Is" in the — Class-I-fied.

Gazette want ads guide the way,
For the best of people, every day.
If you would have the public eye
Gazette want ads you should try.

(To be continued tomorrow.)

Catarrh of the Bladder is taken internally and directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. "Many old camels carry the skins of the young ones to the market," Talmud. And many an older merchant may perform that function for his younger, "cock-sure" competitor. If the older man has "learned things" about advertising as his years have passed:

Even automobiles can run a little over the speed limit.

State politics are warming up as the heat of the summer continues.

Milwaukee did not have a sane Fourth but it had a boy mayor all right.

The Houser trial is dragging along with prospects of its being made a campaign issue yet.

La Follette staid long enough in the state to eat some of his home grown cherries at any rate.

Taft or Fairbanks may be the choice of the inside ring of politicians but not of the people.

One by one the old walls that have long menaced public safety are being torn up and new ones put down.

Nolan's campaign has begun to worry the friends of Cooper not a little although they laughed at first.

Even ex-Senator "Bill" Vilas had to tell what he knew of the expenditures of money by the university.

The usual number of Fourth of July accidents are reported today. There are several who remember the Fourth.

The Thaw-White murder in New York is brought out in all its disgusting details in every yellow journal of the country.

Beloit postoffice aspirants are still in earnest in their support of Cooper. Of course their support is disinterested.

Nolan's candidacy promises well not only in Rock but throughout the entire first district. Racine is especially interested in the Man From Rock.

Pittsburg is securing a reputation for itself that even the millions of its manufacturers can not wipe out. The richer a family is the rotter an appear to be their domestic life.

Roosevelt says that now he is on a vacation he does not want to hear politics but it is safe to say that many politicians want to hear him talk.

The Alton railroad gave a boy who saved the lives of four hundred passengers five dollars. That is about a cent and a quarter a life. Cheap is it not for a valuation on human beings.

Rock river as a summer resort is a problem that may well be tried before condemned. There are many worse places than the Rock river that are extolled in gay colored circulars as famous health resorts.

The city health officer might spend a few minutes inspecting the conditions of several of the back alleys about the city before the extreme hot weather sets in. It would not be time wasted.

The only democratic daily in the first congressional district is being edited on Sundays by a republican attorney. So much for the hopes of a warm support in the first district for a democratic candidate.

Firemen complain that the glass on the alarm boxes in some of the most respectable residence districts are broken continually by sons of the best families. The application of "strap oil" might be good for those lawbreakers. Applied by father or mother it is a sure cure.

Small boys who break into houses even to steal cukes should be warned that their acts are liable to land them in state prison. Breaking into a house at night time is punishable by ten years in state prison and there are not enough people in Janesville like the Thaws to save their offspring from disgrace by the free use of money.

THE GREEN THINGS.
This good story is told of Bishop Potter. An officious young deacon once remarked to the bishop at one of his visitations: "My lord, I have observed that there is mention of you in the Benedicite—O all ye priests of the Lord, bless ye the Lord—but I have failed to find any mention of deacons." "O, yes, there is," answered the bishop, beaming pleasantly, "don't you remember—O all ye green things upon the earth, etc.?"

CHARACTER.
It is one of the most helpful signs of the times that character is thus made the test of every would-be molder of public opinion. It is not that a man says things which are true and good, and even holy, of themselves, but he must put his conviction, cleanliness of life, and sincerity of purpose into what he says, if he would win approval and accomplish his aim.

We occasionally see men succeed in business affairs and carry everything before them to a certain point, which proves the climax, for then it is that their moral unfitness is discovered, resulting in loss of public confidence, and then follows loss of friends as well, and a rapid decline in their prosperity, until there is nothing left but debts and a shattered reputation.

THE LUNCHEON PROBLEM.
With all due respect to Dr. E. F. Willoughby and other hygienic authorities, one may question the utility of dogmatizing on such a purely social issue as the luncheon problem. For surely it must be recognized that no general hygienic rule can be laid down in this matter. The amount of luncheon a man can eat without injurious results evidently varies according to such factors as physique, age, climate, and the nature of his employment. Will any authority contend that a drayman should lunch upon a bath bun and a glass of milk, or the hard-working student upon meat, two vegetables, and pudding? On the other hand, some brain workers have proved their capacity to lunch copiously without sensible decline of post meridian energy, and probably this controversy will also bring to light the vegetarian drayman with a taste for milk and water. It has been argued, however, that luncheon is not only a meal but a ceremony, which apparently means that time must be killed by eating during the mid-day interval. From that point of view a three-course luncheon may be desirable for the leisurely classes, for, as a fashionable idler once remarked, "A good luncheon breaks the back of the day." Not all of us, however, can afford to break the back of the day by dulling our senses with a heavy lunch. We incline to hold that individual inclination should solve the luncheon problem.

PRESS COMMENT.

Pertinent Query.
Green Bay Gazette: Now that the democrats have succeeded in adopting a state platform what are they going to do with it?

The Whole Year is Open Season.
Rockford Register-Gazette: But cheer up, girls. There is another June coming and by that time some of the brides of this one will be divorced.

Cleveland's Coming to Fish.
Milwaukee News: Grover Cleveland is coming to Wisconsin to fish. However, the fish that he will catch have scales instead of moss on their backs.

The Dewey—A Reversed Sprinter.
Exchange: The drydock Dewey has reached the Malaccas. As a reversed sprinter, she is the triumph of modern maritime mechanism.

"Was You Efer?"
Exchange: In referring to Mrs. Longworth as "Princess Albus," it is suggested that the London journals have got Nick mixed with the Prince of Pilsen. "Was you efer in Cincinnati?"

Our Guardian With Us Again.
Milwaukee News: Senator La Follette will now be at leisure to return to Wisconsin and save the people from any blunders that their enemies may be hatching for their exclusive use.

Curzon, the Same Amiable Gent.
Chicago News: Lord Curzon, who declares that Roosevelt is the greatest living statesman, will be remembered on this side as an amiable gentleman who married into the Leiter family some years ago.

Stinger Still Has Its Uses.
Madison Journal: The stinger bee has come as well as the seedless apple. However, the boy in the country school will stick to the old-fashioned bumble when he wants to give his seatmate a jolt to remove the monotony until swimming time.

One Has East; Other West.
Milwaukee Journal: The president has settled it. Mr. La Follette will control the appointments of federal officials for the eastern district of Wisconsin and the Spooner. In the western district. This gives Mr. La Follette control of the Milwaukee appointments, which will be full and wormwood to local Stalwarts.

To Dramatize Political War.
Fond du Lac Commonwealth: Just as the old light between the Stalwarts and Half Breeds was about to be forgotten, Channing Pollock has to "butt in," with the announcement that he proposes to dramatize the affair. Well, anyhow, he won't lack for material when he wants to cast up the part of the heavy villain, and he shouldn't overlook the "angel."

The Cost of Watching 'Em.
Madison Democrat: This is a great country of ours. It will cost the federal government $3,000,000 a year to watch the packers and see that the world is not poisoned with embalmed meat. Perhaps this is one of the penalties of greatness. It certainly is the price of the greed of a few men.

Japan Repays Generosity.
Little Japan has done wonderfully well for the San Francisco people. It has contributed $146,000. It was not long ago that the people of Japan needed assistance. It was readily granted, this country doing its share. The little brown men are appreciative. They are paying back promptly.

Misnomers.
El Paso Herald: Thoughtless parents christened a boy just graduated in Washington "Edison Ericsson" Brown. It is odds on that he was never inventive enough to forge an excuse for playing hooky from school—late usually arranges that sort of a practical joke on dotting elders who try to fix up a career for a child in advance.

One For Each 280 Here.
Superior Telegram: On July 31 the number of saloons in the city of Chicago will be fixed for a long time to come. A new ordinance will then take effect which will limit the issuance of license to one for each 500 persons, and no more will issue until the figures on population can be made to justify it in accordance with the law. Superior has one saloon for each 257 inhabitants.

Democracy Doomed.
Marquette Eagle-Star: The success of the radical element in the democratic party in getting control of the reins in the democratic state convention and adopting an ultra radical platform presages and assures a split in the party later that will be as wide as the one when Bryan was nominated the first time. The favoring of advanced socialistic theories by democracy is sure to drive away that large body of men who have always been democrats by long association, but who will not follow leaders into ways that lead into dangerous paths.

Hearst's New Party.
El Paso Herald: Hearst may succeed in building up a new party and making himself a feature in the next campaign, but he will draw his whole strength from the democrats and ensure another republican victory. That is all he can offer the democratic party. For the rest, it will be a representative in the United States congress, whose record is, confined to about three appearances, half a dozen votes, one attempt at a speech, and a punctual signature to the pay roll, to criticize his fellow congressmen as a basis for politics.

A Ten Cent Outcast.
Fond du Lac Bulletin: Senator Bailey of Texas made it his business the other day to tell the truth about one of the muck raking ten cent magazines, the Cosmopolitan, now owned by young Hearst, the editor of half a dozen yellow daily papers. He is making his magazine one which Mr. Bailey said, "should be consigned to the company of well behaved men and women. They should be outlawed by the united contempt of honest men." All same, candid people who have read the villainous muck raking attacks made in that ten cent outcast will heartily agree with Senator Bailey.

Slanderer on the Rack.
La Crosse Chronicle: Mr. Pfister will be "number 1157" said the slanderous Free Press the day after the indictments were found by a grand jury that was tricked into making an infamous aspersion upon a good citizen of Milwaukee. Up this way we took that to be Mr. Myrick's pleasant way of advising Mr. Pfister that he would soon be in stripes and responding to his penitentiary number instead of his name. Mr. Myrick on the witness stand and at last called to account for the abuse of his privileges as a journalist sees nothing significant of malice in the use of the quoted phrase. We believe that we have heretofore correctly characterized both Mr. Myrick and his Milwaukee Free Press.

TAINTED MONEY IS A MENACE TO ALL

Soiled Currency Should Be Exchanged for New—Germs in Paper.

Tainted money is just now receiving considerable attention from Janesville bankers, who want to stop handling it. However, it is not the money with a Standard Oil stamp on it. Financiers in the city are deeply interested in efforts being made by Congressmen Wiley and Fowler of New Jersey and United States Treasurer Treat to get into circulation clean paper money.

The New Jersey congressmen have bills before congress which provide for redeeming of unclean money without cost. Treasurer Treat has instituted means to minimize the danger to health and life from paper money that has gathered disease germs after years of circulation.

"We are watching the progress of that clean currency measure with much interest," said a local bank cashier. "We make a practice of putting aside all badly soiled bills and of sending them in to the treasury at Washington whenever the stock reaches a volume of $1,000. On this we get a better rate to Washington than to Chicago—10 cents each way on $500. Of course that costs us quite a bit during the year, but we don't like to pay out currency that is unsanitary. We try to have people use gold, but they don't like it. Few quibble over old bills. Most people in Janesville seem willing to chance disease in the currency question. After a bill has been handled a few years it has earned its title of filthy lucre. But fastidious men use more paper money than heretofore. All that stands in the way of the minimizing of the danger from unclean paper money is for congress to pass the bills providing for the transportation free, both ways, of soiled paper money for redemption."

It is estimated that this would cost but $150,000 per year. Thousands of people launder and fumigate their bills at home, but the average person thinks nothing at all of indulging in what would be the most disgusting practice with anything else but money. A microscopic examination of a soiled bill is a more astounding revelation than a similar examination of a drop of water. In the latter the millions of germs which loom up as big as tadpoles are for the most part harmless, while the most deadly germs lurk in the filthy lucre carried unconcernedly by the average individual. So, fortunate, as to possess any of it at all. Furniture and clothing that have been subjected to contact with contagious disease are avoided, but the people calmly take the paper money that is carried and thumbed by countless persons in all stages of unhealthiness and uncleanness.

The expert handlers of paper money never touch their eyes, mouths or noses while at work. Yet in spite of the most careful precautions there are frequent cases of the contraction of virulent diseases. Not long ago a clerk in the redemption department at Washington contracted a loathsome Hawaiian disease from handling paper money. All paper money that has passed through a few hands is tainted. By the time it has been carried in the dirty pockets of a dozen individuals it is dangerous.

LOCAL LAONICS

Died Near Cuba City: A message sent from Cuba City to George S. Parker of Janesville Tuesday evening conveyed the sad tidings of the sudden death of Mrs. James Baxter, who with her husband leased the land on which the Baxter mine is located to Messrs. Boswick, Parker, Lewis, and Palmer of this city.

Little Girl Lost Eye: As the little five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hein of Albany attempted to open a screen door the spring gave way and struck her left eye with such force as to cut it almost in two. She was brought to the Palmer hospital and Dr. J. P. Thorne operated on the injured member. The eyesight, of course, cannot be restored.

Go into Camp: The choir boys of the Trinity Church will go on their annual outing next Tuesday morning. For some years past the boys have gone to various places and pitched their tents and this year they will go to Lake Kegonsa at Colindale Point. There are about thirty of these boys and they generally spend about ten days or two weeks. Last year accompanied by some older people they spent the time at the McGee farm on the river.

No Drunks in Court: As indicating the orderly manner in which Janesville celebrated the nation's birthday it is worthy of remark that not a single drunk appeared in court this morning and only one offender spent the night in the lock-up.

K. of C. Picnic: Members of the Beloit and Janesville councils of the Knights of Columbus will hold a joint picnic at Yost's Park on July 26. Dan Ryan will umpire a baseball game for a large purse between teams representing the two lodges. W. T. Dooly will pitch and Dennis Hayes will catch for Janesville, while Patrick Meehan will twirl the sphere for the Beloiters.

To Expose a Lie: Announcement is made by the Salvation Army that the biggest liar in Janesville will be exposed by a man from Chicago and a woman from Beloit at the meeting to be held Friday evening at eight o'clock at the hall on Milwaukee street. Prior to the service the army will march on Milwaukee and Main streets.

A Swarm of Bees: Mrs. Charles E. Lee on Dickson street was fortunate enough to capture a swarm of bees which alighted in one of the trees in her yard. The bees when found on one of the limbs were captured by the help of some of the neighbors and put into hives.

Small Fire This Afternoon: From some fugitive firecracker fire was communicated to the roof of the McCabe dwelling occupied by Mrs. Clara Wilson at 23 South Bluff street this afternoon. Alce Russell responded to the call for help and put out the blaze with several buckets of water.

TAFT MOST POLITE OF MEN.

Gave His Car to Three Women, Justice Brewer Told Yale Men.

At the Yale alumni meeting the other day in New Haven Justice Brewer was one of the speakers, says the New York Sun. He began by referring to the many colored costumes which confronted him, and added, "And those gentlemen in the striped garb would make us think perhaps that they had recently retired from the United States senate."

Speaking of Secretary Taft, he said: "Now, Secretary Taft is the politest man alive. I heard that recently he arose in a street car and gave his seat to three women."

In President Hadley's address his main suggestion, that Yale have fewer professors and pay them better, was received with surprise, but with some enthusiasm. He said rather bluntly: "Yale would be better off if one-half of the faculty were to be dropped (I will not say which half), and the pay of the other correspondingly raised."

President Hadley told a new class room story of Professor Thomas Lounsbury in announcing the latter's retirement from the faculty. He said: "Professor Lounsbury was teaching an 'inattentive class.' He turned to them and said: 'Gentlemen, bear with me a few minutes. I have yet a few pearls to cast.'"

Arctidia in Missouri.

The Arctidia assembly is a new Missouri enterprise, says the Missouri Farmers' Herald. Robertus Love is the organizer. Aug. 18 to 21 is the first annual encampment, and the summer section of the state, where the breezes blow ever from the southward, is to be the site. There are Chautauquans without number, but this Love affair is to be the Arctidia, which is entirely different. The assembly would be an Arctidia, even though it was held at Hoboken or Kalamazoo. It will be more so at a place so beautiful and sunny as Arctidia. Some sort of organization will be effected by these forces which are working toward the restoration of the independence of men by inducing people to get out of the clutch of city slavery and live the natural life—the rural or the simple life. John Burroughs' creed has been adopted as the shibboleth of the Arctidia.

Tightwad in Heaven.

Some of the tightwads of this town will feel mighty cheap says the Concordia Kansan when they are taken to heaven, and from their perch on a high stool, where they will play on a golden harp with silver strings, they can look down and see some other fellow riding around this town in an automobile bought with the money they could not take along with them to their eternal home.

This Proposition Is Now Up

Can we longer afford to overlook the fact that we can secure the very best of dental service at about half the rates we have been paying? Dr. Richards of Janesville, the independent dentist, says he would be delighted to have his work (put out at a modest price) compared with work done by others at possibly double his prices. He affirms that the comparison will establish the fact that his work is good in every respect. His work is lasting. His work is done thoroughly. His work is substantial, and, in fact, not excelled by that of any other local dentist.

In addition to the reasonableness of his prices, he gives close attention to painless work. Now see what you get by having him do your dental work—

NEW FLUMES FOR MONTEREY PLANT

CONSTRUCTION OF TWO OF THEM IS UNDER WAY.

WORK IS TO COST $10,000

Two New 250-Horsepower Wheels Are to Be Installed and Old Ones Rebuilt—15 Men at Task

Between the wheelhouse and the engine room of the Janesville Electric Co.'s Monterey plant, directly under the great shaft that traverses the intervening space and with the outer wall of sheet-piling in the river bed, 11 A. Cleveland, of Bushnell, Ill., and a force of fifteen men are engaged in the work of sinking a thirty-foot frame to a depth of about fourteen feet below the present surface of the water. Two new flumes are to be built and two 250-horsepower wheels are to be installed when the excavations shall have been completed and the cement and steel foundation laid. Foreman Cleveland is the man who finally succeeded in grounding the cement bottom and running the walls up for the plant at the upper dam, after two predecessors had failed. He hopes to finish his present contract by September.

Old Walls Are Weakening. The undertaking which is going to cost about $10,000 is made necessary by the weakening of the masonry of the old flumes which have been doing duty for over 20 years. Each winter an increasing amount of stone has been flaked off by the frost. The outer wall especially has worn very thin and big cracks are being given a warning which cannot be disregarded. When the new flumes shall have been completed the old ones will be closed and if the summer is not then too far advanced they will be strengthened and rebuilt this season. Supt. P. H. Koest, in whose company a representative of the Gazette visited the scene on Tuesday, says that with the old and new wheels in operation the plant will have 800 horsepower capacity in favorable seasons. All the street lighting is at present done by the current from the Monterey plant after it has passed through a transformer at the river station, and all this power is being furnished by the water-wheels.

The Work in Progress. The excavations are now six feet below the river surface. A fifty-horsepower electric motor is driving the pump and operating the big derrick which hoists the buckets of gravel and sand. The driving of the sheet-piling is made difficult at times by obstacles such as the timbers of an old wooden wall which guarded a wheel in the same location over two decades ago. Some of these timbers which have been under water for a score of years are as sound and strong as on the day they were first put into service. The operations are attended by some little danger. A piece of broken timber which was impeding the driving of the piling at the southeast corner of the frame on Tuesday suddenly gave way, opening up an aperture as big as a hog's head. In an instant the interior of the frame was filling up like one of the "600" locks and the workmen were helping one another to rescue the implements, adjust the suction cap of the pump, and themselves scramble up the side walls. For a time it seemed probable that a raft would have to be built and launched in the mill-race, and in the course of a half hour the opening was closed and the pump had again cleared the frame of water. Foreman Cleveland had met the little emergency with perfect composure, calling each man by name and giving orders which were obeyed with promptness and alacrity. In his affable and genial way he had tried to "jolly" the men earlier in the day to work on the Fourth of July and there was a note of sadness in his voice as he informed Supt. Koest that the effort had been vain.

AGED LADY SEIZED FROM PROBABLE DEATH IN RIVER

W. T. Flaherty Captured Mrs. Cronron as She Looked for Body of Son. She Imagined Was Drowned.

Laboring under the delusion that her son had been drowned in Rock river under the west end of Court street bridge, Mrs. Cronron was taken in charge by W. T. Flaherty as she was tossing sticks and small pieces of lumber into the water in an endeavor to locate the body she imagined submerged there. With the assistance of Philip Doherty she was kept quiet until Officer Brown was able to answer a phone summons. The officer had much difficulty in taking her to the station, the woman fighting furiously. At the city hall her identity was discovered and her son appeared to care for her. His presence set her fears at rest and he was allowed to take her home. Mrs. Cronron is 68 years of age and recently came here from Fort Atkinson. The incident at the bridge created considerable excitement. She was noticed first by Mr. Flaherty as she was climbing over the iron bridge rail. Her foot caught and he crossed the street from his feed store to assist her. As he reached her she, reassured herself and with assurances that no one had been drowned he finally succeeded in inducing her to desert her wild search. She went away but returned shortly afterward and was again noticed as she mounted the rail. Mr. Flaherty again went to her rescue, but she succeeded in climbing over and in her excitement fell to the "filled" shore. It was almost by a miracle that she did not then fall into the water.

As soon as the fire was discovered these gentlemen proceeded to put it out in the old-fashioned way with buckets of water.

DAY OF SANITY IN JANESVILLE

SABBATH QUIET BROODED OVER CITY AT INTERVALS.

SEVEN SERIOUS ACCIDENTS

And a Number of Trifling Mishaps Reported—Flags and Bunting Displayed Quite Generously.

Janesville's "sane" Fourth will long be remembered. People of spirit began moving away from it as early as four o'clock in the morning, and as the day wore on steam and trolley cars, automobiles, carriages, and rowboats carried hundreds away to this and that little neighboring town, where something in the way of a celebration was in progress, or to woodland nooks where humdrum urban life might be forgotten for the nonce. The day at home was not altogether featureless. Flags and bunting were displayed in the residence quarters to an unusual degree, and stars and stripes fluttered from nearly every mast save that of the courthouse. The small boy was busy as usual with the frocrackers, and terrific canes and by carefully "planting" dynamite caps along the rails the street cars were drafted into service in the noise-making festival.

Picnic and Ball Game. At Buob's park, the Ancient Order of Hibernians, celebrated the day with a big picnic attended by representatives of almost every nationality who bore with one another in surprising harmony. A crowd at the golf links had a little celebration of their own which included a picnic supper and fireworks and the baseball game at the fair grounds, provided considerable diversion. Launches, carried a number of little parties upriver. Early last evening the fireworks supplies had been entirely sold out by dealers who had taken into reckoning the prospects of a quiet Fourth.

Had Eye Blown Out. Charles Grasslin, a married man about thirty years of age, who recently moved here from Prescott to make his home at No. 18 Armour street, was the victim of the most serious accident of the day. While he was ramming into a toy cannon some powder which several brass percussion caps chanced to be mixed, the charge exploded. One of the caps lodged in and split open his right eyeball, while others ploughed into his left hand. His face was blown full of powder. Dr. G. W. Fifield dressed the injured hand and Dr. J. P. Thorne operated on the eye. The sight was entirely destroyed.

Two Ladies Were Hurt. Miss Mary Deane of Madison had an eye severely injured by the explosion of a firecracker about noon. She was directed by Dr. E. F. Wood to Dr. Thorne's office. He was able to save the injured member, but the young woman will have to be under his care for some time. Dr. Wood was also called upon to attend Mrs. C. H. Turner, who resides in the Cullen flats on South Main street. As she was walking on the St. Paul depot platform about 5:30 p.m. one fragment of a torpedo which exploded on the rail struck her cheek and the other on the left wrist, inflicting painful but not permanent injuries.

Other Accidents. At Brohead, a son of John Kelly, yardmaster for the St. Paul Ry. here, had his face and body grazed and badly burned by a sky-rocket. Halmir Arneson, fourteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Arneson, who reside on the Milwaukee road about two miles from the city, fell from a bicycle and broke his collarbone. He was attended by Dr. W. D. Merritt. Fred Borgdoff, bartender at the J. C. Karberg saloon on North Franklin street, was thrown from a buggy last evening and had his left arm badly sprained. Claude Drew, aged nine years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Drew, who reside at 251 Lincoln street, was struck in the left eye by the fragments of a firecracker. Dr. J. F. Pember dressed the injuries. The sight will not be impaired.

Nautical Terms.

Rear Admiral Evans has been so long at sea that he is liable to use nautical terms on inopportune occasions. A few evenings ago he boarded an automobile at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York to go to the pier, where his launch was waiting to take him on board the flagship. He settled himself in the cushions and called to the chauffeur: "On deck, there—shove off." The admiral had dined.

CELEBRATE FOURTH IN FOREIGN LANDS

AMERICAN CITIZENS BANQUET IN CAPITAL OF FRANCE.

TOURISTS UNFURL FLAGS

Stars and Stripes in Evidence Wherever Citizens of the United States Gather in Honor of Independence Day.

Paris, July 5.—The feature of the Fourth of July observance here was the banquet of the American chamber of commerce at which Ambassador McCormick discoursed. Our National Housecleaning.

Minister of Agriculture Ruau spoke on behalf of the French government, referring to the close friendship uniting the two nations and concluding with a graceful reference to the visit of Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth to Paris.

Ambassador McCormick's address attracted much attention, as it was devoted principally to the national housecleaning which is now being prosecuted under the directing hand of President Roosevelt. The ambassador said: "Other presidents have had periods of difficulty. Lincoln was riding the country of the curse of slavery at the cost of a fratricidal war. No one can doubt that we in like manner will rid ourselves of the sores that now afflict the body politic. The best augury is that we have a man at the head of the nation who is not afraid to grapple with the problems of the day, as Washington and Lincoln grappled with the problems of their time. The vast majority of the people now as then uphold the hands of their chosen leader."

Mr. McCormick pointed out that uncontrolled wealth and power often led to abuses whether at the heads of the church or the state or of a corporation, and therefore a system of checks and balances is required to restrain abuses without diminishing individual effort.

Americans Are Honest. Commenting on recent foreign criticisms, Mr. McCormick said: "The London Times, that great exponent of English opinion, has declared that while all countries contained their share of Pharisees and foolish individuals, yet the mass of the people of the United States is made up of those believing in the performance of duty and the fulfillment of honest obligations."

The Ambassador pointed out that America's contributions to the industries in the lines of steam, electricity, the submarine cable, the air brake and the grain elevator and binder are not alone material achievements, but also spiritual, lighting the burden of labor and adding to the comforts of the poor.

"Our laws," he continued, "should be so drawn as to protect and encourage corporations in fulfilling their honest duty to the public. No one begrudges wealth and position acquired by those performing an honest duty inside or outside of corporations, but those falling below the honorable standard in the mad chase for wealth commit a crime against the public and their worthier associate deserving of the fullest punishment."

In conclusion, Mr. McCormick said: "We do not fear that the surface conditions developed in our national housecleaning have shaken the faith or lessened the esteem of our lifelong friends, the government and people of France."

Ambassador McCormick gave a reception in the afternoon to practically the entire American colony in Paris.

Celebrate at Christiania.

Christiania, July 5.—Hundreds of Norwegian-Americans who came to visit their native country on the occasion of the coronation of King Haakon and to commemorate the second independence of Norway, celebrated the American Independence day here, demonstratively. They assembled in the large hall of the university, where addresses were made in English and Norwegian, expressing their pride in their American citizenship and their admiration of the great republic. On behalf of the Americans, Col. Plumer praised the Norwegian immigrants in the United States for their many virtues. At night the band of Norwegian-born American students of St. Olaf's college, at Northfield, Minn., gave a concert at the Tivoli garden, where the Stars and Stripes were unfurled and cheered, a most impressive demonstration ensuing.

Toast King and President.

Copenhagen, July 5.—American tourists now here and the American colony resident in the Danish capital celebrated the Fourth of July in the customary manner. At the large hotels and many private houses displayed the Stars and Stripes. The reception at the American legation was well attended. Several dinners were given by Danish-Americans, who are numerous here now, at which King, Frederick and President Roosevelt were toasted. Dances and fireworks followed in some cases.

Baseball in Germany.

Berlin, July 6.—Four hundred Americans celebrated the Fourth of July by an excursion on the River Spree to Grunau, where there was a baseball game and other sports. Dinner was served in a large grove where the excursionists were addressed by A. D. Noyes, of New York. After the dinner there was dancing. The celebration, which is an annual feature of American life in Berlin, had the largest attendance of any of the series.

The plant of the E. J. Noble Manufacturing company, cabinet makers, Chicago, was destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $150,000.

COFFEE

Take Your Choice—a Drug or a Food

Physicians of the highest scientific attainments unite in declaring that coffee is a form of slow poison—a pernicious drug. They point out that it darkens the blood, clogs the liver, colors the skin, weakens the heart's action and ruins the digestion of all who drink it. On the other hand, doctors declare that a pure bottled beer, properly brewed from Malt and Hops, and fully aged, like is a most wholesome and delicious beverage. Gund's Peerless Beer being made from malted barley, is essentially a "food-stuff" of high nutritive value. If drunk regularly with meals it clears the liver, enriches the blood, brightens the skin, stimulates the gastric secretions, and wonderfully promotes the digestive process. Thus it is that the beer-drinking races of men are the healthiest and in the forefront of the World's progress.

Professor Moleschott, the celebrated German savant, says: "A good beer is as nutritious as fruit." Fermented liquors taken in moderation increase the secretions of the digestive juices and promotes the assimilation of food."

PEERLESS BEER won the Gold Medal at the St. Louis Exposition for highest excellence. Contains less than 3% of alcohol, therefore is really a temperance drink. Doctors prescribe it for the weak and sick. Used at all high-class health resorts. Delivered at homes on request by phone or mail. Sold at all cafes, saloons, hotels and buffets. Bottled only at brewery.

A FOOL FOR LOVE

CHAPTER X.

Winton stood abashed and confounded. He weighed in the balance of the after-thought, his sudden and unprepared declaration could plead little excuse in encouragement. And yet she had been exceedingly kind to him.

"I have no right to expect a better answer," he said, finally, "when I could trust myself to speak. But I am like other men, I should like to know why."

"You can ask that?" she retorted. "You say you have no right. What have you done to expect a better answer?"

He shrugged. "Nothing, I suppose. But you know that before."

"I only know what you have shown me during the past three weeks, and it has proved that you are what Mr. Adams said you were—though he was only jesting."

"And that is?"

"A faintest, a dullest, a man with all the God-given ability to do as he will and to succeed, and yet who will not take the trouble to persevere."

Winton smiled, a grim little smile. "You are not quite like any other woman I have ever known—not like any other in the world, I believe. Your sisters, most of them, would take the way I didn't offer at the time. There was no danger of bloodshed. I knew we all knew that Deekert wouldn't go to extremities with the small force he had."

"Then it was only a—"

"A bluff," he said, supplying the word. "If I had believed there was the slightest possibility of a fight, I should have made my men take to the woods rather than let you witness it."

"You shouldn't have let me waste my sympathy," she protested, reproachfully.

"I'm sorry, truly, I am. And you have been wasting it in another direction as well. Tonight will see the shale-slide conquered, definitely. I hope, and three other days of good weather will send us into Carbonate yards."

She broke in upon him with a little cry of impatient despair.

"That shows how unwary you have been! Tell me, is there not a little valley just above here—an open place where your railroad and Uncle Somerville's run side-by-side?"

"Yes, it is a mile this side of the canyon head. What about it?"

"How long is it since you have been up there?" she queried.

"Winton stopped to think. 'I don't know—a week, possibly.'"

"Yet if you had not been coming here every evening, you or Mr. Adams would have found time to go to watch every possible chance of interference, wouldn't you?"

"Perhaps. That was one of the risks I took, a part of the price-paying I spoke of. If anything had happened, I should still be unrepentant."

"Something has happened. While you have been taking things for granted, Uncle Somerville has been at work day and night. He has built a track right across yours in that little valley, and there is a train of cars or something, filled with armed men, kept standing there all the time!"

Winton gave a low whistle. Then he laughed mirthlessly.

"You are quite sure of this? There is no possibility of your being mistaken?"

"None at all. And I can only defend myself by saying that I didn't know about it until a few minutes ago. What is to be done—but stop; you needn't tell me. I am not worthy of your confidence."

"You are; you have just proved it. But there isn't anything to be done. The next thing in order is the exit of one John Winton in disgrace. That spur track and engine means a crossing fight which can be prolonged indefinitely with due vigilance on the part of Mr. Darrah's mercenaries; I'm smashed, Miss Carteret, carefully and permanently. Ah, well, it's only one more fool for love. Hadn't we better go in? You'll take cold standing out here."

She drew herself up and put her hands behind her.

"Is that the way you take it, Mr. Winton?"

The acid laugh came again.

"Would you have me tear a passion to tatters? My ancestors were not French."

Trying as the moment was, she could not miss her opportunity.

"How can you tell when you don't know your grandfather's middle name?" she said, half crying.

His laugh at this was less acid.

"Adams again? My grandfather had no middle name. But I mustn't keep you out here in the cold talking genealogies."

"His hand was on the door to open it for her. Like a flash she came between, and her fingers closed over his on the doorknob.

"Wait," she said. "Have I done all this—humbled myself into the very dust—to no purpose?"

"Not if you will give me the one priceless word I am thirsting for."

"Oh, how shameless you are!" she cried. "Will nothing serve to arouse the better part of you?"

"There is no better part of any man than his love for a woman. You have aroused that."

"Then prove it by going and building your railroad, Mr. Winton. When you have done that—"

He caught at the word as a drowning man catches at a straw.

"When I have won the fight—Virginia, let me see your eyes—when I have won, I may come back to you."

"I like men who do things. Good night." And before he could reply she had made him open the door, for her, and he was left alone on the square rattled platform.

In the gathering-room of the private car Virginia found an atmosphere surcharged with electrical possibilities, felt it and inhaled it, though there was nothing visible to indicate it. The Rajah was buried in the depths of his particular easy-chair, puffing his cigar; Bessie, the Reverend Billy in the tete-a-tete contrivance; and Mrs. Carteret was reading under the Ptolemy light at the table.

It was the chapter on applied electricity, the firing spark to the electrical possibilities.

"Didn't I hear you talking to some one out on the platform, Virginia?" she asked.

"Yes, it was Mr. Winton. He came to make his excuses."

"Mr. Somerville Darrah awoke out of his tobacco reverie with a start, slightly afraid for you, did I?"

"No, but you meant it. And I thought afterwards that I should have given you a hint in some way, though

SKIN DISEASES

There is nothing more distressing than an itching, burning skin disease, and upon the return of warm weather those who are afflicted with skin troubles find the symptoms appearing and know that they will be tormented through the hot summer months. The blood is heated with humors and acid matter, and as they are forced to the surface the skin seems to be on fire. The treatment of skin diseases with external applications is all wrong, because they do not reach the trouble which is in the blood. The most such treatment can be expected to do is, allay the itching and burning and cover up the trouble for awhile, but as soon as it is left off the disease returns.

All food taken into the body contains, in some form, the elements necessary to sustain the different parts. One portion is used for the making of blood, another for muscle, one for bone, still another for fat, and so on. After these different properties are extracted from the food there still remains a portion that is useless, or waste matter, which is intended to be disposed of through the natural channels of bodily waste, the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels. At this season of the year, however, these organs become torpid, dull and sluggish, and fail to perform this duty, and these accumulations remain in the system and are absorbed by the blood to ferment and sour, producing burning acids and acid humors. The blood cannot properly nourish the system while in this impure condition, and begins to throw off these acids through the pores and glands of the skin, producing Acne, Eczema, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum and skin diseases of every description.

ECZEMA appears usually with a slight redness of the skin, followed by pustules from which there flows a sticky fluid that dries and forms a crust, and the itching is intense. It is generally on the back, breast, arms, legs and face, though other parts of the body may be afflicted. In TETTER the skin dries, cracks and bleeds, and is often very painful. The acid in the blood dries up the natural oils of the skin, causing a dry, feverish, hardened condition and giving it a leathery appearance. ACNE makes its appearance on the face in the form of pimples and blackheads, and is particularly disagreeable because of its unsightly appearance, while PSORIASIS, a scaly disease, comes in patches on different parts of the body. One of the worst forms of skin disease is SALT RHEUM. It discharges a watery fluid, forming sores and producing intense itching. The head and face are the parts usually affected, and sometimes the hair falls out and a mass of sores forms on the scalp.

These and all skin diseases are due to the same cause—burning acids and humors in the blood, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and made pure they will continue. The best treatment for all skin diseases is S. S. S., a remedy that is purely vegetable, being made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, and acts directly on the blood with a cleansing, healing effect. It neutralizes the acids and purifies the blood so that the skin, instead of being blistered and burned by the fiery fluids, is nourished by a supply of cooling, healthy blood. It goes down into the circulation and forces out every particle of waste or foreign matter, builds up the blood and cures all skin diseases promptly and permanently. S. S. S. does not leave the least particle of the poison for future outbreaks, but entirely rids the blood of the cause for all skin diseases.

S. S. S. tones up the system and regulates the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels so that they will carry off the natural waste and refuse matter through the proper channels, instead of leaving it to be absorbed by the blood. Nothing equals S. S. S. in the treatment of these troubles and for building up the general health. Write for our treatise on skin diseases and any medical advice you wish. We make no charge for either.

Captured Monkey-Faced Owl.
A monkey-faced owl, the rarest specimen of a bird ever seen in California, flew through a glass window of the Redding schoolhouse and was captured alive by the janitor, who presented it to the landlord of the Temple hotel, where it is on exhibition before many wondering gazers.

The owl is of a beautiful gray color, but its face is the characteristic feature. In place of the usual round face of a monkey, the wings, too, are of unusual length.

THE ITCHING WAS ALMOST UNBEARABLE.

"Dear Sirs—My body broke out with a rash or eruption, which in spite of all efforts to cure continued to get worse. The itching, especially at night, was simply terrible; it would almost dispossess me of sleep. Only last week, however, I had tried many highly recommended preparations without benefit, and hearing of S. S. S. determined to give it a fair trial, and was inexpressibly delighted when a few bottles cured me entirely, removing every blotch and pimple from my body. I shall not fail to recommend S. S. S. whenever an opportunity occurs to do so. Escondido, Cal.
